Extreme Workshop for Interpreters

|--------------------------------|--|
| Title: | Cute shoes Franks, and other things men don't say; Voicing appropriately for male presenters |
| Educational Objectives: | Voicing appropriately for male presenters: Men and women have different styles of communicating. Our style depends on a lot of things: where we're from, how and where we were brought up, our educational background, our age, and more often than we realize our gender. Generally speaking, men and women talk differently using various degrees of masculine and feminine speech characteristics. In the profession of interpreting, where females far outnumber males, it is paramount that female interpreters study the norms of male speech patterns, word selection, tone, affects and the like for the purpose of mastering the skill of appropriately voicing. This workshop is very interactive and lots of fun. Gain the confidence you need to fulfill the professional interpreter's code of ethic; Interpreters/transliterators shall accept assignments using discretion with regard to skill, setting, and the consumers involved. Perfect for platform, community, video relay, and educational interpreters of all levels. |
